GENEALOGY.

The volume of Bulletins covering the years 1878 to 1881 [vol. 4] contains three articles upon genealogy, one giving a list of genealogies by families [No. 49, April, 1879], one by localities [No. 50, July, 1879], and one filled with miscellaneous information. The latter, contained in the Bulletin for October, 1879, is of especial value to persons investigating family history.

Bibliographies, Dictionaries, etc.

Below is a selection of important works of reference. The numerous heraldic and genealogical works of Burke and other reference books of that character have been omitted. In the imprint of the works given hereafter L. stands for London, B. for Boston.

Places.

The following list of local histories, containing more or less genealogical information, includes nearly all of the works mentioned in Durrie's Index to American Genealogies, besides many which do not appear in that work. It does not include English local history, in which the library is especially strong. Marshall's Genealogist's Guide (2433.57) will indicate to the student who cares to extend his investigations, where all the known English printed pedigrees may be found. The towns named below are in Massachusetts unless otherwise specified.

Families.

This list is founded upon that in the Bulletin for April, 1879, but has been greatly enlarged by inserting the family histories added to the library since that date. As a rule they are separate publications, no attempt having been made to extend the list by taking from town histories or serials of any kind. Durrie's Index (4432.70) will be found a very satisfactory guide to the students in investigating publications of that character. It may save time and trouble to know that when the shelf number begins with 24, 25, or 45, the work indicated is the history of an English or Scotch, not of an American family. In many instances the books are restricted to hall use.
